ROOF LIGHTS

Roof lights, also known as skylights, are a popular architectural feature that can offer numerous benefits to both residential and commercial buildings. These innovative windows installed in the roof allow natural light to flood interior spaces, providing a wide range of advantages, from energy efficiency to enhancing natural light.

All flat rooflights come fitted with active neutral self-cleaning glass as standard, which will help you keep it looking cleaner for longer.

Featuring 32.8mm insulated double glazing, this is highly energy efficient and will control the amount of visible light, UV rays and heat passing through the panes - preventing your room from being too cold in winter and too hot in summer.

Flat roof lights seamlessly harness the beauty of the skyline and bring natural light flooding into the heart of your home. A stunning addition to any property, this ultra-slim window boasts a weight-less appearance and guarantees to breathe new life into previously dim or darkened rooms.

Designed to sit completely flush with the internal plaster line, fixed flat roof lights appear to be frameless from the interior of your home - creating the illusion of an open roof space.

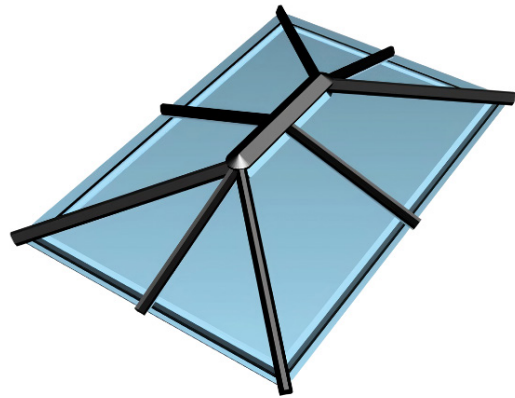

As one of nature's most impressive free resources, the role light plays in interior design should never be underestimated. Installing flat roof lights will allow you to take full advantage of the feel-good factor it creates.

Now available in anthracite grey in addition to standard white or black

SKYPODS

Skypods give height, a sense of grandeur, and a source of natural light, which transforms even the smallest and darkest of rooms. Ideal for single storey extensions and even garage conversions, the Skypod has clean, contemporary lines and gives a room a very modern feel.

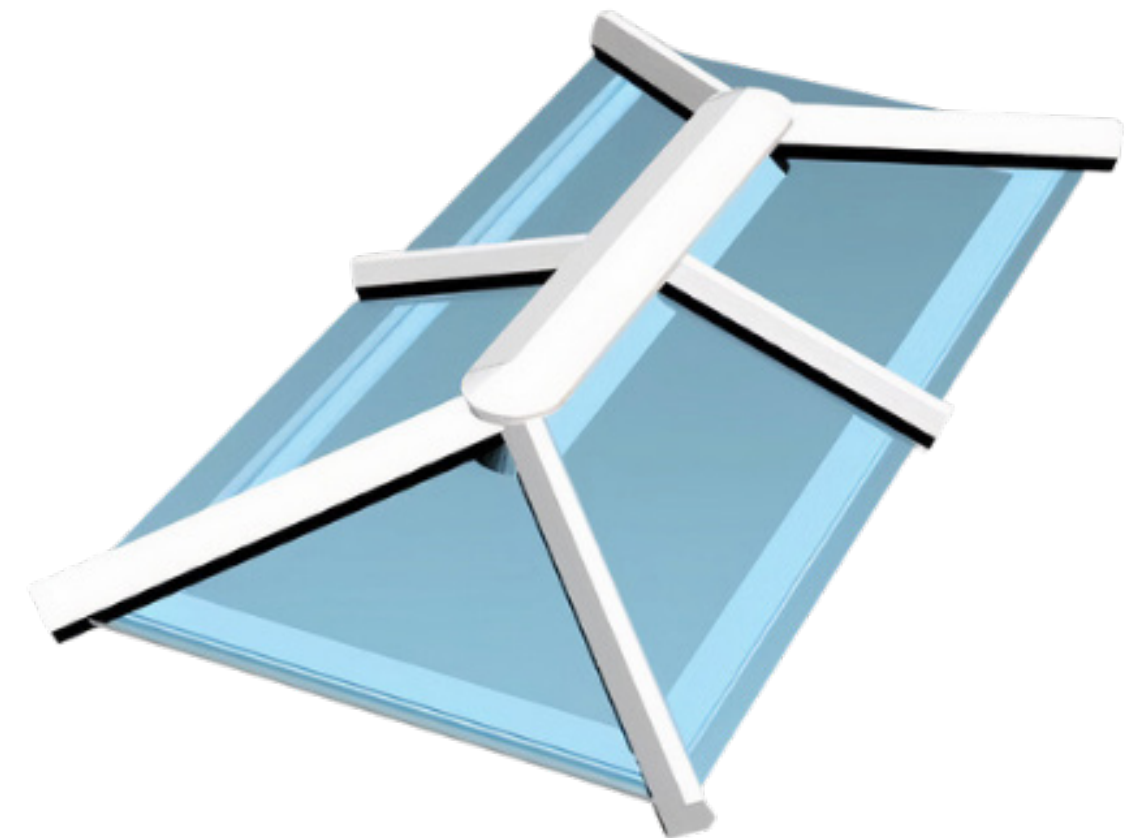

Temperature-controlled glass can reduce a home's heat loss, therefore helping to save money on your energy bills.

All skypod roofs will be supplied with double-glazed units with easy-clean technology glass, with a choice of colours to choose from.

Skypods are an exceptionally energy-efficient sky light that will turn any uninspiring flat roof into a stunning and contemporary design feature. Sleek and stylish, the revolutionary Skypod will brighten and open up any living space.

Skypods are designed to create a stunning focal point while allowing daylight to flood into the room below.

Designed to look and feel modern, the absence of any crestings or finials on the Skypod roof provides completely uninterrupted sight lines, flooding your home with natural light.
